

The Early Career Committee of the International Society of Political Psychology (ISPP) is pleased to invite you to an online Roundtable on Dismantling Racism and Global Exclusion in Publishing: Challenges and Roadmaps for Early Career Researchers, Reviewers, and Editors in Political Psychology.

The event takes place on June 20, 2025, from 15:00 (Central European Summer Time).

This roundtable explores the unique challenges faced by scholars from non-WEIRD (Western, Educated, Industrialised, Rich, and Democratic) backgrounds in the academic publishing process. The conversation will focus on how research from diverse global contexts is often overlooked or undervalued within traditional academic publishing models and how these biases can be mitigated. This roundtable will allow scholars to engage in a meaningful dialogue about creating a more inclusive academic publishing ecosystem that better reflects the diversity of global scholarship.

Panelists:

- Ayşe K. Uskul (University of Sussex)
- Joaquín Bahamondes (Universidad Católica del Norte)
- Masi Noor (Keele University)

The session will be moderated by Dr. Mete Sefa Uysal from the University of Exeter.

This roundtable welcomes all researchers in political psychology and related fields. Whether or not you identify as a scholar from a WEIRD or non-WEIRD country, your participation is essential because creating inclusivity in research requires reflection and engagement from everyone. We invite you to join the conversation!
